

POLICEMEN CHARGES FILED AGAINST THE TWO FIGHTING POLICE OFFICERS. ON GRILL.

Chief Accuses Garrity and McCloud and Trial Is Ordered.

Chief of Police Hodgkins today filed charges with the Police Commissioners against Police Officers William M. McCloud and Peter J. Garrity. The officers had a fierce battle on the street a few days ago when a pistol was drawn.

The auditorium of the Court chamber was filled today when the Police Commissioners met.

Chief Hodgkins filed the following communications:

"That, on the morning of July 19, 1899, Regular Police Officers William M. McCloud and Peter J. Garrity violated article three of rule 32, using indecent, profane and harsh language.

"Second—That the said officers, Peter J. Garrity and William M. McCloud, on the same date, violated article 12 of rule 32 by their conduct and unbecoming actions as police officers.

"Third—That the said officers, Peter J. Garrity and William M. McCloud, on the same date, violated article 12 of rule 32 by their conduct and unbecoming actions as police officers.

"Enclosed you will please find the names of all witnesses. Submitting the matter for such action as your honor, this board shall deem right and proper, I am yours respectfully.

SOME DETAILS.

This communication was accompanied by the following which is also self-explanatory:

"That, on the morning of July 19, 1899, Regular Police Officers William M. McCloud and Peter J. Garrity, on the morning of July 19, 1899, in the restaurant located at the corner of Seventh and Market streets in this city, a fight in and near the restaurant at Seventh and Market streets in this city.

"The facts as reported to me are that Regular Police Officer William M. McCloud on the morning of July 19, 1899, in the restaurant located at the corner of Seventh and Market streets made derogatory remarks about Regular Police Officer Peter J. Garrity; that Officer Garrity was standing outside the restaurant and heard these remarks; that some time afterward, Officer Garrity went into the restaurant and made a vile remark to Mitchell O. Gledhill, one of the proprietors of the restaurant; that he and Officer McCloud had a quarrel, Garrity putting his pistol, club, pistol, and handcuffs on a shelf in the restaurant and after a few minutes' wait, between the said officers, William M. McCloud and Peter J. Garrity, they had a fight and it is alleged that Officer McCloud drew his revolver.

"Officer Garrity was on duty and in full uniform. Officer McCloud was on vacation and in civilian clothes. Respectfully,

"S. C. HODGKINS, Chief of Police."

WITNESSES.

A third communication from the Chief contained the names of a number of witnesses of the encounter between the officers in question as follows: Sergeant H. E. L. Green, Mitchell Gledhill, Henry De Martin, James Bergen and Irvin Johnston.

FURTHER SUSPENSION.

A fourth communication was also read from the Chief, setting forth the fact of the suspension of the officers in question up to date and the right of the board to prolong the suspension until after the trial.

MOTHER MAKES HER DEFENSE.

Mrs. Walker Says Her Millionaire Son-in-Law Hates Bills.

Ageed Millionaire Joseph Boardman has not yet decided all his property to his 17-year-old bride in order to prevent Mrs. Elizabeth Goldstone, a widow with eleven children, from securing it on a judgment in a breach of promise case.

The old gentleman will not sign the deeds. He will pay his wife's bills, but he proposes to manage his own property.

Mrs. E. E. Walker, the mother-in-law, who resides at 909 Clay street, says that her aged son-in-law is all right, but he hates bills and will insist on laughing at all the sensations printed about him in the newspapers.

She says Joseph is a good fellow, and intimates that the millionaire needs a little training.

The pretty bride also has a few comments to make on her husband.

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S DEFENSE.

Mrs. E. E. Walker and her beautiful daughter, the child bride of Octogenarian and Millionaire Joseph Boardman, were seen by a Tribune reporter this morning at their home, No. 909 Clay street, where Mr. Boardman is still residing, pending the revocation of his own establishment on Eighth street, to make it a worthy nest for his young wife. Mr. Boardman lived in the house, which he had just entered with a badge, of nursing mothers that he had borrowed from a neighbor, and he refused to devour the contents of the papers in another part of the house.

Mrs. Walker was by turns furious, pleading and dejected at the thought of the publicity which still pursues her. Her daughter was more calm.

"Why must I continue to suffer in this fashion?" demanded Mrs. Walker. "I suffer publicly and love peace. What is the motive for these persecutions? Are they libel or blackmail? They are breaking me down. They are making me desperate. If they do not cease, I shall take means to defend myself.

JOSEPH JUST LAUGHS.

"It would not be so bad if Boardman minded it as we do, but he doesn't. He just laughs at each new story that comes out. They tell of him as water from a duck's back. And here we are waiting under this awful strain.

"Last night, when that story about the row in the bank came out, my daughter here was in tears, and Mr. Boardman he simply chuckled.

"I have had to send my other daughter to the mountains to avoid nervous prostration. I do not know what is going to become of us, if these things keep on.

JOSEPH INDIFFERENT.

"Who gave the newspapers that bank story, any way? It was only known to ourselves, to Mr. De Golia and to the bank crowd. I didn't tell it. No, I don't suspect Boardman. He is simply indifferent. But who did tell it, and why? There's a nigger in the fence somewhere as they say where I came from. In fact, it seems to me as if there were a whole mob of enemies and mischief-makers, sitting on the fences around around us determined to pick on Boardman.

MAKES ENEMIES.

He has a way of making enemies, Boardman has. He has been doing that all his life, he's so tongue. And then he does hate bills so. That seems to be the way these people have of driving him distracted. They send in bills, which is something Boardman cannot bear.

"But, then, he gets over it in a minute," gently interposed his girl wife.

THEY DON'T QUARREL.

"Oh, yes, I don't mind that," replied the mother. "He's simply eccentric. It is his way. Paying bills causes a sort of frenzy in him. I suppose he can't help it. We don't really quarrel. But I do want that noise of his fixed up. It still has the accumulation of years, with no woman's cure about it, and it has to be fixed."

THE WIFE'S STORY.

"Mr. Boardman is a little slow, that is all," said his wife extemporarily. "I am indeed, anxious to get into a home of my own. But I do want to see it fixed up first. I am waiting for that. All my friends advise me to have everything that is necessary done first. As I go into it, so it will remain, they tell me."

THE BANK STORY.

"Was not the story of the bank trouble true?" inquired the reporter of Mrs. Walker.

"It had a foundation, certainly," replied Mrs. Walker. "But it all occurred more than two weeks ago. For further details I refer you to Dr. Cleveland of San Francisco. What I want to ask, is, who told she has always acted queerly, though she never before did anything like this. I do not know what statement she made to the District Attorney, nor whether her charge was a general one or made against any particular member of the family. I am sure, though, that she herself does not realize, even if she remembers, what she has done. She called yesterday to see my father and myself and was just as pleasant and natural as could be, though it must have been but a short time after she had been to the District Attorney's office. Nothing was said about this matter then as I knew nothing about it myself and she did not mention it. Indeed I do not believe she remembered anything about it."

Dr. Floto, who is now past his ninety-fourth birthday, lives on Knox place with his daughter, Miss Mary Floto. It was deemed best not to tell him of the charges his daughter Emma has made in his behalf.

BOUND ON THE WAY TO SAN FRANCISCO. HOME.

Our Boys Leave Americans Again Manila on the Sherman. Rout a Gang of Bandits.

SPANIA, July 26, 1924. P. M.—The transport Sherman sailed today for San Francisco, via Nagasaki and Yokohama, with the California Infantry, consisting of forty-eight officers and 300 men; two batteries of California heavy artillery, nine officers and eighty-six men and 200 discharged soldiers of other regiments.

MESSAGES FROM GEN. OLS.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Three cable messages from General Ols were received at the War Department today. One reports another engagement with bandits in China, in which the American forces were victorious. It bears date of today and is as follows:

"Following from Cuba today: Bandits from Cuba menaced, robbing and pressing people eastwards. Monday, August 1, 1924, with reinforcements twenty-third infantry, while scouting in the mountains, fired upon from strongly fortified position, one private killed, name not given. No other casualties. Enemy's loss five bandits killed, seven captured."

ENLISTING VOLUNTEERS.

Another refers to the organization of volunteer regiments in the Philippines as follows:

"Bell has enlisted about 50 men. War has still south, has about 100. Local law enforcing, has over 200. Speeches, which are coming in rapidly. At least here an additional regiment, exclusively volunteers."

Colonel Bell referred to in the dispatch is in command of the Third Cavalry Infantry, and Colonel Walker of the First Cavalry. Colonel Lockett is in command of the cavalry regiment which is to be raised in the Philippines.

VOLUNTEERS RETURNING.

The third dispatch says:

"Storm has abated. Sherman sailed today with all troops California. Grant being called, leaves in about four days with troops North Dakota, Wyoming and Idaho. Minnesota preparing to leave on Sherman as soon as transports can be unloading and loaded. Other volunteer organizations leave as soon as transports are available."

General Ols has been called to send the volunteers home as rapidly as possible, it being the desire of the President not to have a delay in the matter.

FRENCH OBJECT TO RECIPROCITY.

Have All the Best of the Treaty and Are Still Dissatisfied.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A good deal of surprise has been caused in official circles here by the unexpected opposition developing in France to the ratification of the reciprocity treaty just negotiated by Mr. Kasein and Mr. Chaumont. It is deemed expedient to make public the details of the convention, but it can be stated authoritatively that in the opinion of our own officials the French have driven a hard bargain in making the treaty. They have, it is said, secured more advantages than they had any just reason to expect at the beginning of the negotiations, and that success was ultimately obtained is owing to the fact that the negotiators felt bound to observe the best interests of the President and make a treaty at all hazards.

BOON TO CHAMPAGNE MAKERS.

It is suspected here that the French people are not aware of the actual value of the concessions they have obtained, and there is reason to believe that when the champagne makers learn the amount of benefit they are to receive, the opposition to the treaty will be at once transferred from France to the United States.

FAVORABLE TO FRANCE.

The statement made yesterday by M. Delcasse, French Minister for Foreign Affairs, that the treaty contained the favored nation clause, is said to be misleading to the public, for what it does contain in that direction is a special provision in the case of certain lines of articles of import that if the rate of duty is reduced below the figures stated to any other nation France shall have the same rate. But this provision is not general, and, as stated, only to certain articles. It is believed that under this head, however, the French champagne makers will profit, for while the treaty itself does not give them the rate desired, yet they probably may profit by the low rate just given to the Portuguese makers of sparkling wine.

FORMIDABLE OPPOSITION.

It is appreciated here that the opposition in Paris comes from very influential quarters. The Republic, a French paper, which makes a bitter attack on the treaty, is directed by M. Melne, former Premier, and one of the most capable leaders in French politics. In particular he represents the peasantry and the general farming class, and his leadership of an opposition indicates that the treaty will have a difficult course before it.

SAYS FATHER WAS POISONED.

District Attorney Told That the Accuser Is Laboring Under Delusion.

Miss Emma Floto is making it very uncomfortable for her father, Dr. Floto, aged ninety-four years, who lives on Knox avenue near Telegraph.

The young lady says somebody put poison in her father's coffee. She made a complaint to the District Attorney to that effect. Today Attorney Asa V. Mendonhall called on the District Attorney and notified him that Miss Floto is insane and not to issue any complaint on her statement.

Mr. Mendonhall says Dr. Floto has not been poisoned. Miss Floto insists, however, in telling all her friends that her father was poisoned.

Miss Mary Floto, the unfortunate woman's sister, when seen today said she knew nothing about the incident and a brief notice in the papers. Her sister, she said, had for years been subject to spells of temporary aberration.

"All who know her at all know that the public and saw only his Cabinet officers and others who had urgent business to consider."

Some official denials were given out of the story that the President would transfer Colonel H. Clay Evans, Commissioner of Pensions, because of alleged protests against his administration of the pension office.

President McKinley and party left Washington at 3 o'clock on the Pennsylvania road for Lake Champlain.

DOLLAR MORPHINE.

Breed Says the Maintenance Shall be Cut Down. One Dose Caused John Thommen to Lose His Reason.

John Thommen, who was arrested by Police Officer Stahl Sunday on a charge of insanity, was discharged this morning by Drs. Knox and Baker, on condition that Mrs. Thommen would send him to a private hospital for treatment.

The day before Thommen's mind became affected he was suffering from colic. Dr. Weschele was called in and prescribed a dose of morphine. The next day the patient became delirious and created the disturbance which led to his arrest.

Dr. H. E. Muller, the family physician, says that the delirium is due to the morphine, and that the patient will recover in a short time.

Thommen owns a saloon on Washington street. Mrs. Thommen says her husband would have been all right if he had not been out of his mind from his usual indulgence in whisky.

"I will try to have my estimate of the city expenses for the next fiscal year ready by next Monday night," said Auditor Breed today. "I do not know that I shall succeed, however. I am determined to put in no manner shall the maintenance levy exceed one dollar. I shall cut and cut estimates until such a levy shall be possible. As to the amount which will be required for bond interest and redemption I cannot state positively, but it will not exceed 17 cents additional, making at the maximum $1.17 for maintenance, bond interest and redemption. I cannot state positively."

Mr. Breed was present at the interview and said: "Mr. Breed will cut the estimates away down and I think he is in accord with most of the members of the Council who are unwilling to have the total levy exceed $1.17. Of course as far as cutting to do with making the levy. That depends upon the Council. He may have some things in his estimate which the Council may eliminate and substitute others for them."

ALL THE NEWS OF ALAMEDA COUNTY

BERKELEY.

BERKELEY, July 26.—The residents of the north end of town are preparing to oppose the granting of the Shattuck avenue street railway franchise. A meeting will be held under the auspices of the North Berkeley Improvement Club to organize the opposition. It is possible the meeting will be held tomorrow night in the first cinema house in the city.

The principal reason for the protest is that the local transit service will be discontinued between Berkeley station and North Berkeley. This means, of course, the abolition of free riding which is largely responsible for the rapid development of the North End. It is also estimated that it would be impossible for the electric cars to handle the commuters.

Opposition from the Berkeley way property owners is also anticipated. There is little doubt, however, that the franchise will be granted as public feeling favors an extension of the street railway system.

STREET DEPARTMENT SHAKING.

The action of the Trustees in appointing Chris Engelbrecht clerk in the street department is occasioning a great deal of comment, and the assertion is made that it is the forerunner of a more important change.

When John Striker, now deputy sheriff, assumed the position of a deputy street superintendent last December, the board decided to abolish the position and replace it with a clerkship. Ralph Chick, brother of Street Superintendent Chick, was temporarily appointed. For some time past there has been a feeling of animosity to the Street Superintendent in certain quarters, and it was freely stated that if the board could agree upon a successor Chick would have been removed.

George F. Felt, who is now acting as the leading candidate, but he could not secure enough votes.

Then it was decided to see what could be done in regard to the clerkship.

The first candidate was George Felt. He did not have sufficient friends on the board, however, so he was dropped. The next man was Chris Engelbrecht, who used to be School Director. Engelbrecht's backing was strong enough to secure him the plum.

It is said the fight against the head of the department will be resumed.

LIVERMORE, July 26.—A boy about 16 years old, Melver's cyclist, on Monday morning with a punctured tire, Town Marshall Harvey, who happened to be in the vicinity, noticed the boy acting suspiciously and accosted him. The reply he received was that the bike was purchased at Black's cycle of San Jose last Friday, that he had ridden from there to Oakland, thence to Livermore and was on his way home to Nevada City. The Marshall telephoned to San Jose and received a reply that the bike was rented to a boy named Melver, who was to hold the young man pending the arrival of an officer from San Jose. Harvey then made the boy admit the theft. He gave him a ticket and said his parents resided in Nevada City. His pockets turned out a plunger, nickel, a jack knife and a bicycle pump. DEATH CALLS A NOBLE WOMAN.

She Was the Grandmother of Five Generations.

Mrs. Margaret A. Clay, grandmother of Mrs. H. A. Stephenson of 125 Thirteenth street, and mother of C. C. Clay, died at the home of her grandchild last night.

Mrs. Clay was a woman with a remarkable history. She was born in Middle Tennessee in 1834. For the past twenty-five years she has lived in California. Although 55 years of age she was in the full possession of her faculties up to the time of her death. She was a constant reader of the daily papers and kept posted on her news of the world.

In her early life she was a leader among women. During the war of the Rebellion she traveled miles on the battlefields to be by the side of one of her relatives.

Although her sympathies were with the South, when the war was over she was loyal to the United States, and up to the time of her death was exceedingly patriotic.

Mrs. Clay was the grandmother of five generations. She has five granddaughters, twelve great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren, and one son. She has seen them all.

Mrs. Clay was a true and noble woman. In every sense of the word.

The funeral will take place from 125 Thirteenth street tomorrow at 11 a. m. The interment will be private.

HAYWARDS RAILROAD MEN AT BANQUET.

The employees of the Haywards electric road tendered a banquet at Haywards last evening to F. F. Putnam, who has just returned from Manila with the Oregon Regiment. Putnam was formerly employed on the Haywards line. When the call was issued for volunteers he gave up his position and was mustered into the army.

F. D. Hoyt acted as toastmaster. In presenting the guest of honor he called attention to the motto on the menu which read: "Our country, may she always be right; but our country, right or wrong." The speaker said that as long as that spirit was adhered to nothing would befall the stars and stripes.

Mr. Putnam related some of his interesting experiences at Manila.

Among the officers of the Oregon Regiment invited were: Captain J. L. May, Sergeant William Grubb and Privates Klepper, Evans, Thompson and Hyland, all of whom have been with the Oregon volunteers through their campaign.

The committee in charge of the banquet was: F. F. Putnam, F. D. Hoyt, F. D. Hoyt, G. E. Halliday, William Young, T. B. Sawyer, A. L. Stewart, D. B. McCalla, M. Nulty, P. Barlow, V. H. Park, J. C. WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1899.

A Russian claims to have invented a system of wireless telephony by which voices can be recognized at a long distance. The results may, however, simply depend upon how loud the speakers can shout.

What has become of our anti-expectation ordinance? It might be a good idea for the police to gather in an offender once in awhile just to remind everybody that it is still in operation. It is certainly as good a safety measure today as it was a year ago, when it was passed, and before it was made about it then as being an absolute necessity.

Although it is possible that as claimed by some members of the City Council, "schoolboys could do the work now being performed by certain employees," the public does not want its affairs handled in that way. Only competent and experienced men should be in the city's service, and it is not fair to employ the grade of labor and then lack of remunerating it with schoolboys' pay.

The public prosecutor who is conducting the trial of Terat at Madrid is demanding that the General be imprisoned for life for having surrendered one Spanish army to Shafter at Santiago. All of which consists merely of political fireworks, with the object of deluding the populace into the belief that Spain was betrayed rather than defeated. It is simply a bluff game so as to give the government a semblance of power it does not possess.

The Peace Conference at The Hague has concluded its labors with a report advising nations how not to quarrel and how to fight fairly by any chance they get into a row. Theoretically, the results are good; practically, not worth the impetus of a cent piece, for war is as inevitable a result of armed peace as it was in the days when our primitive ancestors used to settle their disputes with clubs and stones. The Hague conference is valuable as a matter of sentiment—that's all.

McKinley does not propose to submit the Alaskan boundary dispute to arbitration, for the very good reason that there is nothing to arbitrate. The mere fact that Canada lays claim to any particular strip of land does not necessarily raise an issue. If she claimed California, for example, we would be foolish to arbitrate on such a proposition, and the very same conditions exist on a smaller scale as regards Lynn Canal, the subject of the present dispute. Alameda may rule the waves, but she can't draw lines on land to suit herself.

TWO OAKLAND PROJECTS.

No matters of more vital importance to the interests of Oakland have been before the City Council for many a day than the resolutions introduced at Monday evening's meeting by Councilmen Gilman and Mott and now pending in committee.

The desire to bring the Santa Fe line into Oakland should be paramount with every resident of the city. It saves almost all of the ridiculous that a competing railroad seeking business should be willing to deny itself the traffic benefits of the third most important city in the State, especially when it is remembered that as regards harbor facilities we are on a par with San Francisco itself. It would be a gross error of judgment on the part of the Santa Fe to allow such a condition to exist, and one that it does not seem possible that the directors of that line would permit.

There is no use arguing the advantages to be derived by the Santa Fe should it build into Oakland, nor the benefits that would fall to our lot in such an event, for they are only too palpable. Where, therefore, the interests are mutually important it does not seem possible that there cannot be a way to bring them together, and the committee suggested in Councilman Gilman's resolution should not find its task a very onerous one.

As for Councilman Mott's project for the construction of wharves at West Oakland, there can be no questioning the statement that that part of our water front "offers an easy and natural development for a system of wharves and docks," and such improvements will undoubtedly be there some day. Our water front is a gold mine in our very midst, and it does not require the spirit of prophecy to foresee that in the future it will make our city one of the greatest on the western shores of the American continent. What we do now to develop it will in days to come be referred to as the first steps that led on to fortune, and we need never fear the possibilities of mistake when we apply our money to its improvement.

ELEVATOR ACCIDENTS.

Every now and then a singularly horrible elevator accident, such as the one that occurred yesterday in the Mills Building across the bay, calls attention to the new element of danger that has entered into the daily lives of those whose business compels them to patronize this form of locomotion.

At first most of the accidents resulted either from the faulty construction of the elevators or the carelessness of those in charge of them, but of late years the first-named trouble has been almost entirely eliminated by improvements in the machinery and by the strict supervision kept over the elevator cars by the local authorities and the representatives of the various accident and guaranty insurance companies. The element of carelessness is, in fact, nowadays responsible for fully ninety per cent of the accidents that occur, and in a great many of the cases those injured are individually to blame.

As in everything else, long-continued immunity from accident while traveling in elevators breeds carelessness. People are prone to forget that as they step in and out of a cage at the eighth or tenth floor of one of the big office buildings that they are 100 or 200 feet in the air and that a misstep means being dashed to a horrible death. It is not an uncommon occurrence, therefore, to see persons making a jump for an elevator as it leaves the floor from which they wish to descend, or on other occasions endeavoring to alight as it has started on its upward course. The prevailing idea is based on the belief that as the yawning chasm beneath cannot be seen, it is not there, for if the foolishly traveler properly realized what he was doing there would be no occasion to chide him for his carelessness. The lesson to be drawn from all this can be conveyed in a few bits of advice. Never try to enter or leave an elevator that is in motion. Do not attempt to run the elevator yourself if the attendant is away. Never lean against the shaft gates while waiting for the elevator to arrive. When you step in or out of an elevator transfer yourself from the cage well on to the floor or vice versa with one stride, so that you will be clear of the shaft if by any chance the elevator makes a sudden move.

Funk for the Dewey home continue to pour in despite the Admiral's declaration that he will not accept such an offering. Being a widower, he probably wouldn't know what to do with it if he had it, and although he could almost have his pick of American girls if he took a notion to marry and settle down, he doesn't seem inclined to round up his career in that way. He doubtless thinks he has troubles enough fighting his country's battles, without taking the chances of having some private ones on his hands.

The San Francisco man, while on a visit here, for a joke told some passers-by that he was crazy because he thought he was a bigger fool than he thought he was. He had no idea that a man's word was so readily taken over here, until he found himself in the insane ward at the Court House, and he will probably pass the rest of his life surprised at the fact that there is a place in the world where a man is believed, no matter what he says.

REFORMATORY SHIP BURNS.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LIVERMORE, July 26.—The Roman Catholic reformatory ship Caracra was destroyed by fire this morning. It was built a few months after the fire was discovered and the great three-deck vessel was wrecked in flames. Great excitement prevailed until it became known that the hundreds of boys and officers on board the Caracra had been saved by the ferryboat Messier and Cliffy, which quickly made fast to the burning vessel and began pumping water on the flames. The crew on board the Caracra worked with the utmost discipline until they were forced to leave the ship with the officers. The Captain's family and Bishop White, who spent the night on board the Caracra, lost their personal effects. The crew of the Caracra had a narrow escape, having barely time to reach their own quarters when the bulkheads of the Messier were beginning to take fire.

Three hours after the Caracra's back broke and she settled slowly. This was the second of the reformatory ship of the same name that burned on Alameda Bay river. Her predecessor was fired by boys on board of her.

WANTS NO RECIPROCITY.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. KINGSTON, Jam., July 26.—Relative to the protest of Louisiana and California against a ratification of the West Indian reciprocity treaty, the insular press cordially echoes the views of the Chamberlain, who under present conditions Europe offers a better market than the United States, and that therefore American reciprocity is no favor to Jamaica. The contrary, the Chamberlain adds, "the Senate will help us by throwing out the treaty and having us make more revenue, whilst in such an event there could be no retaliation."

BOUNDARY AFFAIR.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, July 26.—Mr. Tower, the British Charge, had an interview today with Secretary Hay, presumably with reference to the Alaskan boundary. Nothing has been heard from Mr. Chamberlain on this subject for several days. Mr. Ch. is leaving for Newport, which will be the seat of the British Embassy during the summer.

DELIGHTS OF AIR

DELIGHTS OF AN SITTING-AT-CLARENDON

Cazadero, Cal., July 20, 1898.
Editor Tribune-Cazadero, the place of the hunting, or the hunting ground, is well named. The men go hunting, and the women praise the hunters. The first hunt of the season is now about. The local preceptors, who do not have nothing else to do, go hunting, and a favorite occupation is to go out at sundown and stay behind some rock or tree watching for the deer that nevertheless, with darkness shall overtake them, and the hunter sticks home.

The people of a more civilized society have been in the mountains of more, and up to now with and capture nothing but a little fawn, which for the capacity of war horse is bringing a ton a bottle. At last a fine buck stumbled upon the muzzle of his rifle.

the rejoicing. The game was duly interrupted by the music, and by dancing.

One of the newcomers, he was getting to have the door served up at the house, the highest style of the gastronomic art. But when, as the door swung, he exclaim- ed, "Did I see a mosquito here?" he sent away half of them the high and hollow and hasty he put in pickle, the other half he found well worth. Finally the step- board was left bare, so the poor guest and none.

An impromptu mask ball was gotten up, but the guests were so few that the

Considering the stark means at hand, some stunning effects were produced.

This place is being run wide open now. Salt water and lime-juice can be had at a cents per glass.

The weather is delightful, and not so sultry as it was after day, and the thermometer governing at 60 degrees. I went up to see one day last week.

There have been quite a number of Alameda county people up here, and some of them are in a hurry to get home that they registered from San Francisco.

Among the Alameda people here are the Darleys of Fremont, E. P. Taylor and wife, Percy A. Hunkler and the family, George W. Hunkler, Miss Sarah of Pleasanton, Mr. Bush and family of Alameda, Ray Martin and others.

A tramp came up to me today while I was sitting on the porch, and asked me for a cent. I told him that I had no money was sorry, but I did not keep the money. That that did not satisfy him he offered me ten cents for something to eat. Such a fame!

LINSEED OIL COMBINE.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The National Linseed Oil Company, made the following statement in reference to the adjustment of the settlement between the National Linseed Oil Company and the American Linseed Oil Company:
"The officials of the National Linseed Oil Company and the American Linseed Oil Company have been in consultation since Friday morning last, adjusting the accounts between the two companies. Substantially all matters of difference have been adjusted and settled. And the officials are now engaged in making out a complete statement of account between the companies. A statement of the stockholders of the National Linseed Oil Company will be issued during the coming week."

In reference to the report from Minneapolis that Douglas & Piper would erect a new linseed mill at Minneapolis, a company having been formed and $200,000 of capital paid in, it is stated that when the plant of Douglas & Piper was purchased by the American Linseed Oil Company part of the contract and consideration was that neither Mr. Piper nor Mr. Douglas should ever enter into the business of the manufacture of linseed oil for the period of five years. It would be absolutely impossible, it is said, to operate a plant of the size mentioned with the amount of capital named.

CANAL BOTTOM FALLS OUT.

CHICAGO, July 26.—A Times-Herald special from Kewanee, Ill., says:
The bottom of the Hennepin canal in Henry and Bureau counties has fallen out, and the Cincinnati firm which has the contract for constructing this section is puzzled and in dismay at the unexpected happening.

Near Sheffield, in Bureau county, several miles beyond the junction of the Sterling feeder of the canal, the bottom of the canal has fallen out, and the water has been rather troublesome. Below the soft superstrata of earth was a bed of boulders, and when this was scooped through the water suddenly vanished. Later it was found that the ground for a hundred feet around where the big shovel stood had sunk ten feet.

Subsequent borings brought to light the fact that no solid bottom existed for a depth of forty-two feet below the level of the hardpan. Quicksand in the soil is thought to be the reason for this sinking of the ground, and the same trouble has been experienced in digging wells.

Inasmuch as the canal has to be cut according to the accepted surveys through about four miles of the ground apparently of the same consistency, the case presents some engineering features that are quite out of the ordinary, and it is puzzling the contractors to know how to accomplish the feat.

Coke Superseding Coal.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 26.—It has been decided to discontinue the use of coal as fuel for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad and to substitute coke for it on all locomotives.

Experiments with coke have been tried for a year. They have proved that it is the cheaper fuel, lasts almost as long as bituminous coal and has other advantages over it.

For the Boston and Albany a year's supply of coke has been ordered, and it is believed there is a likelihood of this fuel being adopted by all of the New England railroads.

FUNERAL OF THE CZAROWITZ.

Imperial Pomp With Which the Body Was Escorted.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald, describing the funeral of the Czarowitz, says:
The Dowager Empress, accompanied by the Grand Dukes and Grand Duchesses and attended by Mrs. Ozeroff, her maid of honor, Count Benckendorff and Admiral Loran, arrived on the 26th inst. at Novorossiysk and embarked on the Imperial St. George.

The vessel left for Batoum, followed by a convoy of the Black Sea fleet.
On the arrival of the vessels at Batoum, the St. George alone entered the harbor, the other vessels remaining outside.

The entire Black Sea fleet had assembled to pay the last honors to the deceased Imperial Grand Duke.

The vessels were drawn up in a double line that extended all the way from the town to Novo-Rossiysk and the St. George, with her august passengers and the body of the Prince, passed down the center.

The shroud was of cloth of gold, lined with bordered ermine. The military service around the coffin at the train and at sea was performed by Generals Bilibidze and Nizhinskiy—the latter a Colonel of the regiment of the Chevalier Guards—and by officers and non-commissioned officers of a detachment sent to Adrianopol by the regiments of which the Imperial Grand Duke was chief and by soldiers belonging to the Grand Duke Constantine Nicholasovich's Marine Corps, who accompanied him to St. Petersburg.

On the arrival of the Imperial train at St. Petersburg at 7 o'clock on Monday evening, the Emperor and Grand Dukes in person carried the coffin to a catafalque of a cloth of gold, drawn by eight horses that awaited in the Grand Dukes' hall over a carpet of cloth of gold covered with ermine. The entire court and administration took part in the procession, which also included detachments of marine guards and representatives of all institutions of which the late Grand Duke was a member.

In front of the catafalque was carried on a cushion of cloth of gold, the numerous decorations of the deceased Prince. His flag officer from the Imperial stable followed with the Imperial coach and black cloth drapings.

A large body of clergy, among them the Grand Duke's abbot, preceded by the choir of the Imperial chapel bearing lighted tapers, walked immediately in front of the catafalque. The choir of which were held by the highest state functionaries.

THE ROYAL FAMILY.
Immediately behind the catafalque came the Emperor followed by Baron Fredericksz, the court marshal, and

General Messe, the head of the Emperor's military household.
The Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovich came next, walking alone. Then came the Grand Dukes Vladimir Alexis Sergeievich, Paul Michaelovich and his sons, the Grand Duke Alexander George and Sergievich, the Grand Dukes Nicholas and Peter Nikolaevich, the Grand Dukes Constantine and Dmitri Constantinovich, the Dukes Eugene and George of Leuchtenberg, Princesses Alexandra and Peter of Oldenburg and the Prince of Montenegro.

They were followed by the suites of the Emperor, the Grand Dukes and the Princesses.

After the royal mourners on foot there came in an open carriage, drawn in black cloth, attired in deep mourning and attended by two Cossacks of the Chamber in black cloth liveries, the Empress's mother with her two daughters, the Grand Duchesses Xenia and Olga.

In a second carriage rode the Grand Dukes Michael, Vladimir, the Grand Dukes Elizabeth Fedorovna, the Grand Dukes Alexander Joseph and the Grand Dukes Elizabeth Maryevna, wife of the Grand Duke Constantine Constantinovich. The third carriage carried the Grand Dukes Nicholas Nikolaevich and the Grand Dukes Eugene and George of Leuchtenberg and Princess Helena of Albrecht.

LADIES OF THE COURT.
Then came a long line of carriages containing grand ladies of the court and maids of honor of the Empress and Grand Duchesses. Lastly on foot, two by two, were members of the household of the Imperial Grand Duke and a long line of regiments of the guard, which accompanied the funeral procession to the fortress.

Here the Metropolitan Antholios of St. Petersburg and Lodovica celebrated a solemn funeral mass in the presence of the Imperial family and court. The Emperor and Grand Dukes carried the coffin into the church and deposited it beneath an immense dais, which was covered with cloth of gold. Four Generals' aides-de-camp removed the lid of the coffin and laid it on a table covered with cloth of silver, specially prepared. They then covered the lower part of the body of the Grand Duke with cloth of gold lined with ermine.

COFFIN LIES IN STATE.
A grand hall consisting of a General aides-de-camp, an aide-de-camp to the Emperor, two chambellans and two gentlemen of the bed chamber, four officers and four non-commissioned officers of the Imperial guard, the grand duke's aides-de-camp, the grand duke's valets, the coffin lay in state during three days. All the churches and places of amusement will be closed and all music forbidden.

A meeting was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. Hall for the purpose of forming a local union of the Co-operative Brotherhood.

The meeting was addressed by J. A. Johnson, State Organizer and Dr. Marc P. Underwood.

Dr. Underwood stated that none but the bodied individuals would be taken as members of the Brotherhood. "We do not want moribund men or 'drunks' as he said, 'though later on we would build a sanatorium for such people as recognize that they must be taken care of.'"

He further stated that one of the important objects of the organization was to furnish work to the unemployed.

The Brotherhood proposes to do this by enlisting the sympathies of wealthy people who will furnish the funds to put tools in the hands of those willing to work and start them to earning an honest living in one of the Brotherhood colonies.

He stated that rich men who have examined the laws of the organization have signified their willingness to furnish the money to put the deserving poor to work.

"The rich people are not half as bad as they are painted," he said, "and they want to help the poor when they can do so wisely."

The meeting adjourned without forming any local union. For the present the Oakland members of the Brotherhood will be considered as members of the San Francisco union which meets at 909 Market street, San Francisco every Sunday afternoon at 2 P. M.

The San Francisco union has forty-eight members.

DESPERATE CONVICTS.

CHICAGO, July 26.—A Times-Herald special from Columbus, Ohio, says:
The four incorrigible convicts—Tom Marlett, Otis Hurley, John O'Neil and John Atkinson—in the Ohio State Prison, have just been completed for their special benefit.

The prisoners are known as the "prison demons." Each one has shot or stabbed a guard or two since his incarceration. They are all life men, and though subjected to the severest punishment, absolutely refuse to work.

Though the Warden does not admit it, it is believed that the men will sooner or later kill each other. Marlett fought like a maniac against being put in the cage, and it required six men to control him.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 26.—Donald Matheson and Robert Matheson, aged 12 and 10 years respectively, sons of Duncan Matheson, a ranchman, were drowned while bathing in Big Sandy Creek near Matheson, Elbert county, about sixty miles north of this city. The indications are that the older one of the two boys was drowned while trying to save the life of the younger. The father is one of the best known citizens of Elbert county.

RECIPROCITY WITH FRANCE.

A Rich Market Thrown Open to American Products.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Edmond Bruvart, French Consul at New York, says of the new reciprocity treaty between France and the United States:
"It is an excellent thing for the United States. America was the only country which did not have the benefit of our minimum tariff. As the manufacturers are satisfied with a profit of 5 per cent, the difference between the maximum and minimum rates was sufficient to keep the United States out of the French market."

"France's annual importation of manufactured articles is about $200,000,000, and the United States will get a good share of this. America understands the French market in cotton goods in China, and there is no reason why it cannot do the same in France. It will be the same with other articles."

"England, Belgium, Germany and Austria have simply France with her tariff and manufactured products. The leading imports are raw cotton, wheat, tobacco, mineral oil, copper and lead. America sends agricultural implements, sewing machines, electrical appliances and pumps."

"There are 82 articles on the dutiable list of the French tariff, and the treaty gives the United States the minimum rate on all except twelve. Germany, England and the other countries which have treaties with France do not enjoy the minimum rate on these twelve exceptions, which are chiefly agricultural products. The average difference between the French maximum and minimum rate is 22 per cent, so that imports from this country will pay one-third less duty when the treaty goes into effect."

WHAT FRANCE GETS.
"There are 92 dutiable items in the tariff law of the United States, and in return for her concessions France will obtain a lower rate in less than 100 of them, the average reduction being only 10 per cent. While this seems one-sided, it is not so much so as it appears, because American goods have been sent into France as dutiable goods under the minimum tariff."

"I do not think the treaty can go into effect before next February. It must be ratified both here and in France and signed by President Loubet and President McKinley. Then copies of the treaty must be exchanged."

WISE MOVE FOR AMERICA.
"The treaty marks a new era for the United States. There will exist no real opposition to American imports in foreign countries, and it will be wise for the United States to make treaties before that opposition becomes too strong. Mr. Kasson, who negotiated the treaty for the United States, has been very successful, and I think he takes a good view of the situation, foreseeing what must happen in the future."

"France has given all she can give, because with her $1,000,000,000 of national debt she cannot reduce her tariff any further. We did not get what we asked for by any means, but we obtained all the United States was willing to give. We realized that the treaty must be such that Congress would approve it, and France deferred to President McKinley's wishes on that account."

Mr. Bruvart said that the United States had a great commercial future, and expressed admiration at the ease with which Secretary Gage borrowed all the money needed for the war with Spain.

Secrecy is maintained with regard to the class of goods upon which the American tariff will be lowered. This is done in order to avoid the opposition of interests which might object to foreign competition in the home market. The details will probably not be made known before Congress meets.

CAVALRY FOR PHILIPPINES

SEATTLE, July 26.—According to the latest reports received from the War Department, August 10th is the date set for the arrival in Seattle of the Third Cavalry. How long they will remain here will depend upon the arrival of the transports, but they can be kept in good condition, but the date will probably be after August 15th.

The Albatross, it is expected, will come into port late this evening. The Port Albert is now at Victoria, and it is thought will reach here about the same time as the Albatross.

Regarding the Victoria, nothing has been heard since the advice stating that she would arrive August 1st. Nothing is known about the Hancock, but the departure is led to believe that she will arrive in San Francisco about August 1st.

Of the entire fleet, the Garzon is here at the present time. Work on changing her is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

The work throughout will be complete, and the fleet every convenience for the stock in transit.

Woodland Park is being prepared as a camp for the men and horses. Late yesterday afternoon Captain Robinson received advice from the owners of the horses, among them the husbands of Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Simton, that the women were to be sent to the city for the removal of the free use of the city for the removal of the transports.

"Faust" Sung in English.

Gounod's masterpiece, "Faust," is being sung at the Grand Opera House, San Francisco, this week by the Morisco Company. It can be said that this production is far superior to any that has been given at a much larger price. The staging is all that could be desired, the new scenery and effects being excellent. The one noticeable feature of the performance is the well-drilled chorus. There is no opera company that can equal the well trained chorus of the Morisco. Their soldier song at the opening of the fourth act is so well rendered that it is nightly encored three or four times.

As for the principals, Thomas H. Parsloe and Edith Mason as Faust and Marguerite, among them the husbands of Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Simton, that the women were to be sent to the city for the removal of the free use of the city for the removal of the transports.

"Faust" will be sung throughout the week and promises to be the most artistic and financial success of the season.

GIRL KIDNAPED BY A NEGRESS.

Had Previously Tried to Entice Three Boys Away.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Eight negroes—three women and five children—arrived from Sierra Leone on Monday, and after wandering about the streets all day were taken in charge by a colored missionary, Mrs. Hattie Ross, who found them shivering and managed to get food for them. They are Mrs. Lucy Grayson, Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Simton, who, with their husbands and children, formed part of a large colony of Southern negroes who sailed from Savannah, Ga., in March, 1896, for Liberia.

Gathered together by the International Emigration Company of Birmingham, Ala., they have been told that "Liberia was the promised land for the colored race." Hundreds sold their homes and joined the colony, sailing on the Labrador.

Arriving at Monrovia, the colonists received a cold reception and had to be promised them, but learned that it would be several years before they could gather the first crop of coffee, which was about the only thing that could be raised. The agent in charge of the supplies, which were to have been furnished them for one year, sold them in the interior and left with the proceeds.

Some of the colonists made their way inland and attempted to compete with the natives at starvation wages in the fields and as carriers. Scores succumbed to the heat, among them the husbands of Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Simton. The women escaped to Freetown, Sierra Leone, where they were cared for by Dr. Williams, the American Consul. It was by his assistance and that of two steamship companies that Mrs. Grayson, Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Simton were able to reach America.
